ACCUSES CREW AND OFFICERS.
Boatman of Alaska Makes Startling Charges.
Insists 'All Passengers Might Have Been Saved.'
Easterly Set of the Tide is Blamed for Wreck.
[BY A. P. MORTIMER]
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Members of the crew of the wrecked steamer Alaska were slack in their efforts to rescue survivors that an officer of the rescue ship Anaxos suggested that they be shot, William E. McClintock, the Alaska's first officer, declared today. He was the last witness at the trial before Federal inspectors of four executive officers of the Alaska on charges of negligence in connection with the wreck, which was concluded late today. A motion picture showing the rescue of the survivors was shown to the jury. McClintock declared he made two separate attempts to get a volunteer crew to go from the Anaxos to search for survivors, but was stopped on both occasions by the master of the Anaxos. The women on the starboard side of the Alaska seemed so feeble that they had to be carried into the lifeboats, he said. McClintock said he got into an argument with the second mate of the Anaxos when the rescue boat officer asked him: "Where are all the good Yanks tonight?" He testified that Capt. Harry Hober of the Alaska was a total abstainer and that the officers of the wrecked vessel were not entertaining women in their quarters when the boat struck. D. E. Dupree, Oakland, second officer of the Alaska, Calumet, Mich., third officer, and M. J. Albin, Portland, Or., fourth officer, denied statements made by Boatwain Hilmer that he was active in lowering the boats on the back deck during the whole period that the Alaska was sinking. Dupree said he saw the boatwain shortly before the ship went down, but he did not seem to be particularly active. The Alaska changed her course at 12:15 p.m. on the night of the disaster, according to the captain's theory that the vessel should cruise further out to sea as the weather was thick. He said the wireless operator could not understand his orders and could not be understood, but he did not have a good command of the English language. Hilmer said "if the officers of the Alaska possessed qualifications of seamen I never had a chance to find it out." "So far as I know, the officers did not look around the decks for more passengers before they themselves took off on life rafts," Hilmer continued, and said that No. 1 life raft never was launched. The men assigned to him for launching boats on the starboard side were competent, but the men on the port side, which he had transferred by Capt. Harry Hober after the first boat was launched, were not competent, according to Hilmer's testimony. "If I had been ordered to stay on the starboard side, where the greatest difficulty was experienced in launching boats, no lives would have been lost," the boatwain declared. The four men fell into the water while launching a life raft, and

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Washington government hopes to make some announcement relating to peace negotiations with Germany within a few days. Nothing regarding the status of those negotiations could be disclosed in the near future. The forthcoming announcement was reported today to concern a preliminary agreement now being negotiated with Germany whereby commercial relations between the two countries might be resumed pending the negotiation of a final treaty upon which resumption of diplomatic relations would depend. Official confirmation of this resumption of peace negotiations was reported by the White House, and State Department although some of the intimates of the administration in official life are said to have been informed in strictest confidence of the progress of the President's efforts to make peace with Germany. TO RESUME RELATIONS. The preliminary agreement, it is reported, will be in the nature of a modus vivendi or a working arrangement between the countries to serve until a peace treaty can be completed and submitted to the Senate for ratification. The modus vivendi would pave the way for the resumption of commercial relations between Germany and the United States and would contain a stipulation preserving American rights under the armistice and the subsequent treaties culminating in the conflict. It also would serve as a basis for a final treaty to be negotiated later. SENATE MUST APPROVE. If this preliminary agreement is negotiated, it will not have to be submitted to the Senate and, in so far as peace is concerned, would serve only to postpone final action on winding up the war with Germany. Senators who have heard of the plan say it probably would mean that a peace treaty upon which the Senate would be asked to pass would not be ready for consideration several months. In the meantime, however, the two countries could send in consuls and trade representatives and business interchanges would follow.

Grocer Ordered to Hold Up Hands Thinks He Has an Offer of Assistance.
[BY A. P. MORTIMER]
TACOMA (Wash.), Aug. 18.—Deafness is responsible for A. A. Holdal, 45 years old, a grocer, being in a local hospital today with two bullet wounds in his head. When a robber entered his store last night and ordered him to hold up his hands, Mr. Holdal understood that he was offering to help lift a bale of hay. After shooting the grocer, the bandit took a small sum from the cash drawer. CAPT. HOBBS. In the presence of witnesses, told Hilmer the third mate knew nothing about handling lifeboats, according to the testimony. Hilmer said he had followed the sea for sixteen years. He shipped on the Alaska in July, later left of his own accord, then returned. Complaint that members of the crew were incompetent was made by Hilmer to W. E. McClintock, first officer, the boatwain testified, and McClintock agreed with him. The first officer told him the crew would be charged, "whereas the vessel reached San Francisco and directed him to keep watch to learn which ones should be weeded out. CLOSELY QUESTIONED. Hilmer said he was not entirely familiar with the duties of the vessel's quartermasters and those of the ship's carpenter, who he had mentioned by name as incompetent. W. E. McClintock, first officer, on the stand today contradicted some essentials of Boatwain Hilmer's story. Two of the boats which Hilmer said he had launched from the deck remained on the Alaska when she went down, according to McClintock. The first officer saw Capt. Harry Hober brought two girls to the saloon deck and told the first officer to put them aboard a boat.

When a robber entered his store last night and ordered him to hold up his hands, Mr. Holdal understood that he was offering to help lift a bale of hay. After shooting the grocer, the bandit took a small sum from the cash drawer. CAPT. HOBBS. In the presence of witnesses, told Hilmer the third mate knew nothing about handling lifeboats, according to the testimony. Hilmer said he had followed the sea for sixteen years. He shipped on the Alaska in July, later left of his own accord, then returned. Complaint that members of the crew were incompetent was made by Hilmer to W. E. McClintock, first officer, the boatwain testified, and McClintock agreed with him. The first officer told him the crew would be charged, "whereas the vessel reached San Francisco and directed him to keep watch to learn which ones should be weeded out. CLOSELY QUESTIONED. Hilmer said he was not entirely familiar with the duties of the vessel's quartermasters and those of the ship's carpenter, who he had mentioned by name as incompetent. W. E. McClintock, first officer, on the stand today contradicted some essentials of Boatwain Hilmer's story. Two of the boats which Hilmer said he had launched from the deck remained on the Alaska when she went down, according to McClintock. The first officer saw Capt. Harry Hober brought two girls to the saloon deck and told the first officer to put them aboard a boat.

$795

The advent of the Davenport-Tracy Baby Grand was a decided boon to those whose homes were necessarily limited in size, yet whose musical and artistic requirements were of the highest. They immediately welcomed the Davenport-Tracy Baby Grand—they regarded it as the embodiment of their ideals—a small instrument of beautiful appearance and superior tonal qualities. The Davenport-Tracy Baby Grand deftly embodies the qualities of the larger concert grands with the space-utility of the ordinary upright piano. It occupies no more space than the upright, yet it has the tonal charm and the elegance of the grand. We would be pleased to show this fine instrument to you.

DEPRESSION IN LUMBER TRADE.

Situation Causing Idleness in the Northwest.
Government Report Shows Much Unemployment.
Most Oregon and Washington Cities Optimistic.

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Depression in lumbering continues to cause unemployment in many Washington and Oregon cities, according to a report made public here by the employment service of the United States Department of Labor.

Portions of the report covering several of the cities follow:

PORTLAND—Unemployment in all lines continues, especially among unskilled labor and in lumber, shingling and the building trades. Shipyard work is practically shut down, and several sawmills are reported closed. Railroad construction, agriculture, street and highway work and miscellaneous projects are expected to offer considerable employment. Lumber is dull, with shipments delayed. Pending settlement of industrial disputes among marine workers. No further reductions in wages. Retail establishments, seasonal goods showing improvement. An active building program is effecting gradual elimination of the housing shortage. The general attitude is optimistic.

REASONABLY FAVORABLE.
ASTORIA—The labor situation is reasonably favorable. While minor unemployment exists in all lines, it is not acute. A limited number have found work on local projects. Lumber operations continue irregular. One mill being reported closed for lack of orders. Decreased labor demand is affecting women, has followed restricted activities in canneries. A box factory is closed on account of fire. A slight shortage of rental houses exists, and there is little home building in progress. It is believed that the coming improvement will be steady.

TACOMA—Unemployment continues in all lines, with lumber and shingling suffering most. Several mills and logging camps are closed, while others are operating on a partial basis. State and municipal highway work, railroad construction in Alaska and hydroelectric development are offering substantial relief. Shipyard work is reported. The housing situation is improved with an increased number of small homes under construction. General feeling is optimistic.

ALASKA DEMAND HELPS.
SEATTLE—Unemployment and part-time activity in construction lines of industry, but is most marked in metals, lumber, office help and unskilled labor. Demand for machinists and miscellaneous workers in Alaska and agricultural work have afforded some relief. Important municipal improvements building operations and railroad construction in Alaska promise employment to many. Lumber trade, many plants having closed temporarily for mid-summer repairs and improvements. Textiles show decided improvement. Male farm help is plentiful and a reasonable demand for female berry pickers is reported. With new residences under construction, the housing situation is satisfactory. Optimistic predictions for early improvement predominate.

EVERETT—In lumber, the principal local industry, mills are usually operating on an eight-hour schedule, with decreased forces. Some mills have been closed, during the month, for overhauling. Unemployment is heavier in lumber, building trades, metal and general labor. Jobbing and retail trades are fair. Some building is in progress and no hydro.

MILLION, AIM OF TEMPERANCE.
Needed to Aid Anti-Tobacco Program, Says Officer.

Sees Opening of Wider Avenues of Service.
Convention Delegates Honor Late W.C.T.U. Heads.

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—A million workers are needed to aid in the anti-tobacco educational program for the youth of America and for other projects, Miss Anna A. Gordon of Evanston, Ill., national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, declared in her address which featured the opening of the forty-eighth national convention of the organization here today. Fifteen hundred delegates were in attendance.

"Our expanded program calls for $1,000,000 and 1,000,000 members to help our twentieth century obligations and opportunities," Miss Gordon declared. "After the war conditions and after the amendment requirements constantly open before us wider avenues of service, necessitating greater community and national-wide co-operation."

HONOR LATE CHIEFS.
The delegates bowed their heads in mourning for Rosalind, Countess of Carlisle, and Lady Henry Somerset, departed heads of the world W.C.T.U. when the convention opened its sessions today.

News of the death of the Countess Carlisle was received yesterday by Miss Gordon. The passing of the titled English leader makes Miss Gordon temporary head of the world union.

Speaking of Lady Carlisle, Miss Gordon said today:

"She was one of England's and the world's noblest women, self-sacrificing and devoted her wealth, her position and her wonderful talent for organization, for the betterment of human conditions, particularly in the temperance cause."

PLANS ARE OUTLINED.
Announcement of the purposes of the union was made by the national officers in their reports, submitted today. The national organization will spend $150,000 for child welfare, $100,000 for health and morality, $100,000 for the Americanization program, $50,000 for women in industry, $50,000 for the education and information department, $100,000 for the world prohibition crusade and other sums for field service and administration needs.

WANTS HOLLAND TO SURRENDER WILLIAM.
DEMAND IS MADE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS BY INDEPENDENT MEMBER.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, Aug. 18.—The declaration that Holland should be called upon to surrender the former German Emperor was made in the House of Commons today by Horatio Bottomley, Independent, who again raised the question of the recent trials in Leipzig of German officers accused of acts in violation of the rules of civilized warfare in the World War.

Mr. Bottomley said that if the demand for the ex-Kaiser's surrender should be refused by the British and the British government found itself unable to deal with the matter effectively, the government should make way for "men of sterner stuff."

The Solicitor-General, Sir Ernest Pollock, who represented the government at the trials in Leipzig, reviewed them and declared that the punishment imposed by the German court on convicted German officers must be judged by German standards.

THOUSAND HOMES IN CONSTANTINOPLE LOST

Inter-Allied troops stationed in Constantinople assisted with the firemen in bringing the fire under control.

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE.)
SALEM (Or.) Aug. 18.—Opening prune prices of the Oregon Growers Co-operative Association for the 1921 dried prune crop, bulk basis, were announced here today at 10 1/2 cents for 30-40 size (4 cents for 40-50's, 7 1/2 cents for 50-60's, 6 1/2 cents for 60-70's).

The prices average about 5 cents below the opening quotations of last year. The association estimates the Northwest crop at 23,000,000 pounds for this year.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The House concluded general debate on the tax bill and will begin the consideration of amendments tomorrow.

The Senate Finance Committee finished hearings on the chemical schedule of the tariff bill and will take up the earthenware and glassware schedules tomorrow.

The Senate was adjourned today by stirring debate over prohibition when conferees on the anti-bill asked for further instructions. The Senate voted to stand by its amendment, making search and seizure without a warrant a criminal offense.

The administration hopes to make some announcement regarding peace negotiations with Germany within a few days.

A majority of the House committee which investigated the escape of slacker Grover C. Bergdoll, charges in its report that he was aided in his escape by a conspiracy in which former Judge-Advocate-General Samuel T. Ansell, Col. John E. Hunt and Col. C. C. Crossen took leading parts.

The President and Secretary Hoover, in announcing plans for Russian relief declare that they will be carried through by a single American administration with all American relief agencies combining their resources and that no public drive for funds will be conducted.

China sent to the State Department today formal acceptance of the American invitation to participate in the Washington conference on Pacific and East Far East problems in connection with the consideration of limitation of armaments.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

California Trust Companies Developing Fiduciary Service of High Order; Fish Packing Revives.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The development of trust companies and trust departments of banks in California forms an interesting chapter in the history of the postwar period, for such development is bound to be contemporaneous with the unusual showing made by Los Angeles in every line of financial, industrial and commercial endeavor.

There is probably no one better qualified to discuss this movement than L. H. Roseberry, vice-president for California of the Trust Companies Division of the American Bankers' Association.

Until July of this year, former Senator Roseberry explained, the superintendent of banks was without the right to examine private or voluntary trusts, a consequence the true amount of property, which aggregates hundreds of millions of dollars held in fiduciary trusts cannot be accurately stated.

It is apparent, however, that the present and permanent growth of corporate fiduciary business has been in this field, although no public sources are available through which may be known the actual extent of their growth during the past year.

On June 30, 1932, there were in this State eight trust companies, twenty-six State banks operating trust departments, and nine national banks authorized to do a fiduciary business. On the same date this year, there were ten trust companies, twenty-six State banks with trust departments, and ten national banks with trust functions. During the same period four new trust companies started business, two new trust companies of State banks were established, and one national bank authorized to execute trusts.

No trust company or bank with a trust department failed during the year, nor, indeed, have any failed since the establishment of office of State Superintendent of Banks, in 1903.

At the Corona convention in May, the sentiment of all trust officers present was to the effect that the past year was one of the most encouraging in their history from the standpoint of new business. This result was obtained by the triple prospect of increased familiarity by the public with trust company functions, standardization of charges, and enlarged services.

"The big interest of the year, overshadowing all else," said Senator Roseberry, "was the campaign by a certain faction of the California bar to pass a bill regulating the trust companies, a purpose which was defeated by all lay agencies. As a result of this activity such a bill, so amended as to single out banks for punishment and exempt all other offenders, was passed and signed by the Governor, but was quickly subjected to a referendum in which the voters of the State nullified it at the next general election."

"Unfortunately, all ethical principles to elevate the practice of law, licensed attorneys, was passed and signed by the Governor, but was quickly subjected to a referendum in which the voters of the State nullified it at the next general election."

Two weeks' supply. His confidence in the early recovery of the packing industry is evidenced by the fact that the corporation that he represents is undergoing the greatest expansion of its history at the present time. A large new plant at San Pedro has been recently purchased by the Redondo Packing Corporation and fishing is now under way for still more extensive operations.

Kippered mackerel is one of the new canned products that is being introduced on the Pacific Coast. The cold deep waters of Redondo Bay abound with mackerel and the successful packing of this fish through the kipping method is opening up a new and profitable field in the local canning industry, according to Mr. Furlong.

Sockeye salmon are rapidly disappearing from the Puget Sound in the opinion of Seattle canners and there is the possibility of an actual shortage this year. The sockeye comes every four years and this is the season for the large run, but the only few hundred today.

Eight years ago 1,700,000 cases of sockeye salmon were packed at Puget Sound points. Four years later the pack was 1,000,000 cases. This year it is not expected to yield 200,000 cases, a decrease of 50 per cent in four years. Only 71,000 cases have been packed to date.

RESERVE STATEMENT.

Federal Report is Principal Point of Interest in Day of General Market Uncertainty.

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOTES,
Financial Editor New York "Times."
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—In another day of uncertain markets—the only positive movement being a further fall in wheat to a price 10 cents a bushel below that of a week ago—the Federal Reserve statement was once more the point of interest. It showed that the very remarkable increase in reserves along with decrease in liabilities is continuing; the reserve ratio both of the whole system and of the New York district went to the lowest point.

While the holdings of the twelve reserve banks have risen $24,500,000 during the week, redemptions decreased $15,000,000 and note circulation $17,100,000. Last year $44,000,000 was added to outstanding notes during the first three weeks of August and the expansion was ascribed to preparations of the autumn trade; the corresponding period this year the decrease has been $26,000,000 and the total circulation during the first three weeks of August was $1,271,000,000 from the high point of $1,300,000,000 in the high point of the autumn trade. It is actually smaller this week than it was when Germany signed the armistice in November of 1918.

The New York Reserve Bank has also reduced both loans and note circulation during the past week and this time has not only retained all the imported gold, but has drawn $1,000,000 from other banks in the system.

Possibly reflecting the money market transfers which caused this shifting of reserve money to New York, call money rates declined by one and two points since August 6. This hint of easier money following Wednesday's lower rate for loans on time, probably had some influence on the stock market, which advanced in the later trading after a day of purposeless movements, largely extending. As a rule, the day's net changes were made up of fractional gains, with a few advances running to one and two points.

Recovery of 1 1/4 cents in sterling, partly lost before the close, was accompanied by a moderate net decline in the gold market. The price of marks is more or less influenced by the value but persistent reports of funds credits under negotiation by Germany, with a view to completing the final payment of the three months billion-mark bonds delivered to the Reparations Commission on May 31. But the present exchange market, as a whole, is becoming all too impossible to follow and explain.

BUSINESS NEWS.

Net sales of six representative Los Angeles department stores during the seven months ended July 31 showed a 7 per cent gain over the net sales during the same period last year. On the other hand, net sales for July, 1932, showed a 1.5 per cent decrease against July, 1931. These figures are contained in a summary of the condition of local retail trade yesterday by John Perrin, board chairman and Federal Reserve agent of the Federal Reserve Bank through the Los Angeles branch.

The complete summary follows:

Percentage decrease of net sales during July, 1932, compared with net sales during same period last year, 1.5.

Percentage decrease of net sales during July, 1932, compared with net sales during June, 1932, 9.8.

Percentage increase of net sales from January 1931 to July, 1932, inclusive, compared with net sales during same period last year, 7.0.

Percentage decrease of stocks at close of July, 1932, compared with stocks at close of same month last year, 13.0.

Percentage increase of stocks at close of July, 1932, compared with stocks at close of previous month, 7.0.

Percentage of average stocks at close of each month this season to average monthly net sales during same period, 33.7.

Percentage outstanding orders at close of July, 1932, to total purchases during year 1931, 11.5.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

Union Oil of California gained another full point during the trading yesterday and sold up to a strong close at 128.50. Delaware Union was represented by only two tenders, the first going over at 17.00 and the second at 16.75. Republic Petroleum was fractionally stronger and sold up to 25 cents. Other oils were comparatively inactive.

In the mines United Eastern continued to gain strength and moved up a point to 2.25 with United American firm at 19 1/2 cents. Goodrich preferred continued to lead the petroleum and again enjoyed another active trading day with a well-sustained price around $1.00. General Edison was at 32 1/2.

On the whole the market displayed a better tone and closed in good shape and with an upward swing.

STEEL TRADE.

Conditions in the steel trade are varying. Some buyers profess to believe that the low point in price has not yet been reached, while trade organs feature renewed buying and advancing prices.

Three wells have been brought in the Amatlan district, Mexico, in addition to the Tidewater Oil Company's 40,000-barrel producer on lot No. 176. Continental Mexican Petroleum Corporation, General Petroleum of California, completed one on lot No. 161, Amatlan at 2300 feet with an estimated production of 600 barrels a day. BUFFALO (N. Y.) Aug. 18.—Although Mrs. Ell T. Hooper, appointed as a member of the film censorship board, most emphatically does not approve of the scanty bathing suit her husband is not so vehement. "I'm 63, I don't think it would corrupt my morals," he said, "it's all in the point of view."

INJURED PLAYER WINS IN COURT.

French Tribunal Sentences Football Man.
Will Hurt Game, is Belief of Sportsmen.
Players Will Take No Chance of Jail Term.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—A Rouen court has condemned a football player to four months in prison and to pay a fine of 6000 francs for injuring another player during a match. This is the first time such a sentence has been delivered in France, and it is believed in sporting circles that it will have a lasting effect on sports, as players will hesitate to risk going to prison for a game.
The Olympic Club of Paris was playing the Rouen Club Association, and during the first half Aymard (Rouen) had to leave the ground on account of an injury to his eye after a collision with the international player, Langenove (Olympic). The day was very foggy and only two or three players could see what really happened.

CLUB COMPLAINS.
The Rouen Club lodged a complaint with the Football Federation, which found it impossible to obtain proof of misconduct against Aymard. The club complained that Aymard had injured Langenove before the Rouen court and the judgment was given by default. French courts always give the maximum penalty when they condemn anyone who does not appear for trial, but the sentence was changed if the condemned man takes the case to appeal.
Langenove says he never received a summons to appear. He was a student at St. Cyr Military College when the incident occurred, and was in garrison at Mayence when the case was heard. Langenove says that he is not in the position that I struck him with my fist."

Actual Conditions in a Hot Wave
Not Told by the Thermometer

The Weather Bureau evidently is bound not to recognize any formula which it may not term exact. But can the Weather Bureau point to a single, rule of combination by which it can make one infallible forecast? Venture to say it cannot as long as it sticks to observations rather than mathematical principles.

It often happens that a person feels more oppressed by the heat on a 70-deg. morning than he does toward noon, when the thermometer is 20 deg. higher. Perhaps he has a hygrometer which shows 80 per cent of moisture when the early thermometer says 70. Dividing 80 by 75—an average

Take Mr. Redway's instance of heat in Death Valley. If a visitor arrived there and ran in to a thermometer heat of 130 and a 100 per cent humidity, he would feel about 162 deg. of heat.

But if there was only 50 deg. of humidity he would get only 1 deg. of heat.

Of course New York, like Boston, can see nothing normal about a summer whose felt temperature is so much in excess of Fahrenheit reading. June in New England averaged a trifle below normal by the thermometer. His tory by the same measure is likely to record no extraordinary July. Until a means is adopted by which sensible temperature may be declared, meteorological history will continue to be misleading so far as personal temperature feelings are concerned.

The man with bulging biceps during an eight-hour shift transfers from the bin to the firebox 4000 pounds of coal, moving it a distance of eight feet. To this must be added the weight of his shovel, which travels eight feet.

Each time the typist strikes a key she exerts a force of about 44,800 foot-pounds of energy.

With an average of five letters to the word, therefore, she expends on each word written energy amounting to twenty-five ounce-inches, which totals, at her average working speed, 1250 ounce-inches per minute for key-striking. On every tenth word, the line space must be

In other words, she expends only about one-sixth as much physical energy on her day's work as does the coal heaver, but her expenditure of nervous energy is much greater. Her expenditure of physical energy would, however, considerably exceed that of many men engaged in the lighter manual occupations, for instance, as paperhanging or electric wiring. —[New York Evening Post.

CHARGES EFFORT TO MAKE MURDER SUSPECTS TALK.

Obenchain States Investigators Tried to Force Interview of Accused at Night in Jail.

Ralph R. Obenchain yesterday declared he had been advised by his client and one-time wife, Madalynne Obenchain, of an attempt early yesterday morning to force an interview between her, Arthur C. Burch and the investigators. She refused, he said. Mr. Obenchain declared that since Mrs. Obenchain and Burch were jointly accused of the murder of J. Belton Kennedy and duly indicted it was the function of the Sheriff merely to see to their confinement, to prevent the prisoners from being harassed and to produce them for trial to face the charges that the prosecution may assemble. As they are wards of the Sheriff, he said, the procedure of yesterday morning was irregular.

The reasons for it are not clear. The opinion was expressed that the investigators had something to bring before the prisoners which they hoped might lead them to say more than they have said about the slaying of the young Los Angeles broker. Mr. Obenchain said he had made no official protest of the incident; nor did he intimate that he would do so.

AFTER MIDNIGHT. Mrs. Obenchain's version of the affair, conveyed through Mr. Obenchain, is that she was awakened about 1 a. m. and told that a message from the Sheriff's office said Mr. Burch wanted her to meet him at once for a conference. Mrs. Obenchain declined to leave her compartment.

The matron in charge, who relayed the message, refused to make any statement, referring the inquiry to the Sheriff or undersecretary. Burch, when asked if he requested a midnight conference declared he did not ask to see Mrs. Obenchain and did not promise to tell anything. Sheriff Traeger said all he knew about the next morning. He was told the next morning. He was told the next morning. He was told the next morning.

KEYS IN DARK. Dep. Dist. Atty. Keyes, who is in charge of the investigation, and who would be the proper man to receive any statement the prisoners should make, said he had not been called to the jail was not aware any "midnight conference" had been contemplated.

DEFENSE PROGRESS. Mr. Obenchain said that the defense had made great progress in the last twenty-four hours. He

"NATURE CURE" HALTED BY LAW.

Man Who "Treated" Virtually Nude Wife is Jailed.

Woman Found Semiconscious in "Sun Bath" Apartment.

Once Beautiful Girl, Terribly Emaciated, in Hospital.

The laws of nature as interpreted by Worthington Ogborn in the treatment of his pretty wife, Mrs. Aimee Ogborn, said by physicians to be dying, clashed yesterday with the laws of man and the latter won when Mrs. Ogborn, terribly emaciated and in a semiconscious condition, was rushed to a hospital and Ogborn was placed in the County Jail on a charge of failure to provide.

Regarded less than a year ago as a girl of extraordinary beauty, Mrs. Ogborn was reduced to shocking emaciation when she was found late yesterday at 4325 Willowbrook avenue by Detective James Smith of the District Attorney's office. Mrs. Smith was sent to investigate Mrs. Ogborn's condition by Dep. Dist. Atty. Burke, who acted at the request of the girl's mother, Mrs. Mathew Minkus, 155 South Bonnie Bras street.

The young woman, who is 23 years old, was lying virtually nude in the hot afternoon sun, the cot on which she was placed being located on a roof inclosed for the purpose of exposing patients to take "sun baths."

"NEEDED FOOD." Dr. H. A. Robeson of Hollywood, a chiropractor, was called by Ogborn several days ago, but Dr. Robeson said last night, was not retained after he warned Ogborn, he said, that Mrs. Ogborn needed nourishing food.

He hoped for the recovery of Mrs. Ogborn was expressed by Dr. W. F. Perry, who examined the young woman and who was consulted by Dep. Dist. Atty. Burke.

The arrest of Ogborn was ordered after the District Attorney's office was informed that his wife's condition was such that she was in danger of dying. The office was informed that his wife's condition was such that she was in danger of dying. The office was informed that his wife's condition was such that she was in danger of dying.

After Mr. Kennedy was killed, Miss M. Louise Wilson, Mrs. Obenchain's friend, told The Times of the story behind the telegram. She said it was "framed" to throw Mrs. Kennedy, the slain broker's mother, off the track and make her believe that Obenchain was in Chicago.

DETECTIVE LEADER. One characteristic of the Kennedy case is that Malcolm McLaren, private detective employed on the case by the District Attorney's office, appears more and more to be dominating the official investigation.

Mr. Obenchain's prediction on Wednesday that "the man who killed J. Belton Kennedy" would be in jail within five days brought a proposal yesterday from Mr. McLaren. He said it was Mr. Obenchain's duty to give such facts to the District Attorney's office; that he will act on any evidence warranting arrest, and that the only desire of the officials is to see the murderer of Mr. Kennedy arrested and convicted. But, Mr. McLaren went on, any theory of the case must provide a place for Arthur C. Burch, that the facts show too strong a case against them to be disregarded.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Keyes yesterday examined two new witnesses. Neither, he said, had given anything particularly startling, but good supporting evidence of incidents already established by his examination. Mr. Keyes added that the case

SCHOOL BUDGET IS STUPENDOUS.

Seventeen and a Half Million Needed, Keppel Reports.

County Superintendent Files Statement With Auditor.

Says "Sorrowful Tale" Shows Our Phenomenal Growth.

Accomplishing in twenty days a task for which the State law provides sixty, County Superintendent of Schools Keppel filed the annual school budget a few minutes before 5 p. m. yesterday. It calls for $17,470,056.29, an increase of $1,441,127 as compared with 1920-1921.

"This would be a sorrowful tale were it not for the fact that the increase in budget demands so clearly indicates the phenomenal growth of the community," said Mr. Keppel. "And at that the total increase of $1,441,127 over the budget of last year is as nothing when we realize that the common school attendance increased 10 per cent and the high school attendance 26 per cent. I am more than pleased that we get off as easy as we do and feel that we have the State to thank, as well as the people, in the passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 16 which increases the State's contribution to our common schools about $500,000 this year and practically doubles the high school contribution."

"Los Angeles is growing faster today than ever before and in addition to that the real boosters of this community have organized and are carrying on a campaign advertising Los Angeles as a summer resort that will stimulate growth to an extent hitherto unknown."

MUST KEEP ABBREAST.

"We should be well pleased with the magnificent equipment we now have for educational purposes, but still the public must understand that a continuance of keeping abreast with the stupendous development of Los Angeles county is absolutely vital. I look for fully as large an increase in daily school attendance next year, if not greater—a condition which can be pointed to with pride and which is causing comment all over the United States. Los Angeles can have no greater asset than to be able to show a 25 per cent increase in school attendance. It is the very keynote of our slogan, 'Greater Southern California, Stride Ahead.'"

The budget is made up of the following items:

High school district taxes.....$1,138,448.00
County high school taxes.....1,248,319.25
Total high school taxes.....$2,386,767.25
Increase.....$ 388,500.29

Total common tax added.....10,372,000.00
Total last year.....9,478,015.00

The superintendent pointed out that the relative difference between the high school and common school increase would not be so great were nationalities.

"TIMES" PRICE IS REDUCED.

Delivered by Carrier for 80 Cents Per Month After September First.

Beginning September 1, the subscription price of the Los Angeles Times will be reduced to 80 cents a month, delivered by carrier. While it is actually costing more now to produce, the Times than at any time in its history, there is reasonable assurance that the price of white paper will be reduced in the near future. The Times believes that every enterprise dealing with the public should do its share to restore normal price conditions by reducing prices as soon as business conditions warrant. It is therefore making this 15 per cent cut in anticipation of the drop in the cost of its paper, so that its readers may promptly share the saving. Telephone your order to Pico 700 or 10391. San Francisco morning papers are now $1.15 a month, delivered by carrier. In Chicago they are $1.35 a month. The price of the daily and Sunday Times on the street, on news stands and by mail will not be changed at present.

French Beauty Seeks Fiance at Wrong Port.

Aboard the steamer Yale when she sailed for San Francisco yesterday afternoon was a pretty young woman from Bordeaux, France, enjoying the romantic name of Louise de Marceux daughter of the Comtesse de Marceux of Bordeaux. The young woman arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning, expecting to meet her intended husband, Lieut. Robert Maxwell of Pittsburgh, Kan., to whom she became betrothed during the war. She was overseas with the American Expeditionary Forces. On arriving here, Miss Marceux learned that the intended bridegroom was awaiting her in San Francisco and not in Los Angeles. Through a Red Cross, arrangements were made for her passage on the Yale, and District Passenger Agent Cullen hurried her to the boat in his automobile, the last Pacific Electric train before the sailing of the boat having already departed. A second stateroom was reserved for the young woman by General Manager Chandler when he learned by telephone of the emergency.

WOOD APPOINTMENT DRAWS OFFERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Senate today drew up a bill to the Senate for the purpose of the military and naval appointments.

BROADWAY at SIXTH

FORTY SCHOOL AREAS ANNEXED.

Board Acts to Cut Expense of Education.

Voters to Decide in Three Common Districts.

Need of Larger Buildings Here is Forecast.

An important step in school matters was taken by the Board of Supervisors yesterday when it annexed forty common school districts to high school districts and continued until the voters have passed on their preference a decision in three common school districts.

The tremendous growth of the schools in Los Angeles county, the pressure for the future consolidation, annexations and a survey to provide larger buildings for students. The annexation of these forty common school districts is authorized by a bill recently passed by the Legislature, a large attendance at the high schools, a saving in the cost of education by reason of the fact that overhead expenses are not increased.

LEGALIZE ATTENDANCE.
Pupils from common school districts have been attending high schools not in their districts by arrangement. Under the annexation system, their attendance has been legalized, and taxpayers will be asked to provide the funds necessary to cover the expense.

The common school districts annexed will have to help support the high schools in cases where pupils from those districts go to those high schools. Each district will bear its own proportion of the expense.

The suggestion to annex these common school districts was made by County Supt. Koppel to the Board of Supervisors yesterday. The board advertised a hearing for yesterday. In the meantime, the Garvey, San Marino and La Canada school districts petitioned to be allowed to vote on the matter. Garvey was divided between Alhambra and El Monte; San Marino between Pasadena and South Pasadena, and La Canada between Glendale and Pasadena. Garvey will vote today; La Canada on the 24th inst. and San Marino on the 26th inst.

ACTION POSTPONED.
Action was postponed by the board on the Bee and Oak Flat districts, because further information was wanted.

The following districts were annexed:
San Gabriel to Alhambra High School; Wiltona, Pasadena, West Elizabeth Lake, El Monte, El Monte, Quale Lake, Soledad, Marana, Mint Canyon, Sterling, Elphinstone, Aqueducts to Antelope Valley Union High School; Antelope and Shingler to North Union High School; Monte Vista to Glendale Union High School; Laguna and Trosky to Huntington Park; Corcoran and Litchfield to Long Beach city; Cornell, Liberty, San Joaquin, Garapato, Calhoun, Feltus, San Joaquin, Alturas, El Cerrito, San Francisco, Monterey, San Jose, Newhall, Culver City and Beverly Hills to Los Angeles city; Spadra to Pomona; Fairview and Walnut to Puente; Decker and Seaman to Santa Monica.

LEARNS OF SOUTHLAND DELIGHTS.

Texas Says All-Year "Ad" Was First to Tell Him of Summer Coolness.

One of the best illustrations of the prevalence of the erroneous idea that summers in Los Angeles are uncomfortably hot and an indication of the value of the advertising campaign of the Chamber of Commerce in California were shown yesterday in a letter received by the club from San Antonio, Tex. It came up within a few lines the prime importance of the educational work being done in the all-year movement.

The letter is from the secretary of a prominent corporation. He enclosed a clipping showing the temperature in different cities and said: "Your advertisement in the San Antonio Express contains the first information I have ever received as to the fact that the summer in Los Angeles is comparatively cool. The general impression prevailing here is that the summer in Los Angeles must be uncomfortably hot because of our southern latitude and that the humidity must be high on account of your proximity to the ocean."

"Primarily to get away from the unbearable heat of the San Antonio summer, I have been considering establishing a western branch of our business at San Francisco as I notice daily in the published weather reports that the temperature is quite low there, but the papers never give the Los Angeles temperature, so you will note by the enclosed clipping."

"I would appreciate your sending me information relative to Los Angeles; also the daily summer temperature and humidity."

Nineteen hundred replies have already been received by the All-Year Club in answer to the advertising of the Southland.

FUNERAL IS CONDUCTED FOR OTIS G. WILSON, VICTIM OF HEART TROUBLE.

Funeral services for Otis G. Wilson, believed by many pioneers of the paper manufacturing business to have been the first man to inaugurate the wrapping of fruit in paper, were conducted yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church in Inglewood cemetery.

Mr. Wilson was the local manager for the Graham Paper Company of St. Louis. As far back as twenty years ago he toured the country, carrying his idea of fruit-wrapping into the various fruit centers. He came to this city nine years ago from Denver.

Mr. Wilson died last Monday of heart trouble. He was 51 years old. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Edna Wilson, and mother, Mrs. Samantha J. Wilson, both of 1734 South Normandie avenue.

The three Parisian favorites, American and Russian Broadtail and Caracul are shown in wraps of different lengths in very interesting designs.

The deep collars that roll up softly against the ears, the bell sleeves or the muff-like cuffs, the actual cut of the garments show the influence of Paris as directly as do the furs themselves and the combinations in which they are used.

Furs Suitable to This Climate

Here in the Southland, every night of the year is cool enough to make a Fur Stole or Scarf in summer, and a Fur Wrap in early fall, a very acceptable part of one's wardrobe. In fact, many women never store away a Fur Wrap, but use it for motoring at night the year through.

FIRST STREET TUNNEL URGED.

City Engineer Plans Tube to Speed Up Traffic.

Project Would Link Downtown With Western District.

Million and Half Estimated Cost of the Program.

As a means of relieving traffic congestion in the downtown part of the city, City Engineer Griffin will submit very soon to the City Council plans for a proposed tunnel under First street between Figueroa and Hill streets, to cost $1,500,000. This estimate includes the probable cost of a second short tunnel under Figueroa street at First street and of a viaduct over the same street near the western entrance to the proposed tube.

The purpose of the short tunnel under Figueroa at First street is to eliminate the climb over the present hill at this point and to speed up north and southbound traffic by eliminating the hill and the present dangerous grade crossing. The trestle at the western entrance to the proposed new First-street tunnel is designed to link Glendale and Beverly boulevards directly with the northern business portion of the city.

With the union terminal at the Plaza and the proposed civic center grouped about the present Court house, Hall of Records and proposed new Hall of Justice, the First-street tunnel would provide means of direct access to these improvements.

Mr. Griffin believes that as the entire city will benefit from the improvement, it should be constructed under a bond issue, rather than by district assessment, which was the method under which funds for the Second-street tunnel were provided.

The new tunnel, under the City Engineer's plans, would be 400 feet long, and the grade would not exceed 3 per cent.

By using the new tunnel, traffic from the beaches, Glendale and other western districts would arrive at First street and Broadway without traveling through the congested downtown streets, and could then have a direct route through First street to Whittier and the east, or could turn north on Broadway to the San Gabriel Valley cities and towns.

SCHOOL BUDGET TOTAL IS HUGE.

It is not for the fact that the city is asking for school building fund of $1,100,000 this year while last year it asked for a building fund of $140,000. "The city is compelled to ask for this fund of more than $1,000,000 because of its rapid growth and inability to sell its school bonds," explained Mr. Keppel.

Average attendance in the city and county in the common schools for the past year was as follows: county 113,345, city 43,345, or 43 per cent. High school attendance was: For the county, 23,933 and for the city, 14,324, or 17 per cent. This fact, Mr. Keppel feels, indicates the justification for the building fund of $1,000,000 asked by the city.

The County Auditor will now check over the budget filed by Mr. Keppel and on finding it correct will compute the tax rate in accordance therewith. The tax rate will then be submitted to the Board of Supervisors who on the first Tuesday in September will officially fix the tax rate.

"I wish to state that the splendid work which has been done by the Board of Supervisors on educational matters during the past year has been highly pleasing to this office," said Mr. Keppel as he grabbed his hat and started for the door. "I was sitting at that desk at 6:15 this morning; I have been there all day; the budget is filed and I am at home, feeling that a ton weight has been taken off my shoulders. As I said before, it is a sorrowful business to have to figure taxes for the public to pay."

PIPAL SLATED TO PUT KICK IN FOOTBALL.
"Timber Wolf," Oxy Tigers Due to Give Them All a Hot Run for Their Ready Money.
BY JOE PUNT.
The return of "Timber Wolf" Joe Pipal to Occidental College football means the injection into Southern California football of the element that it needs, the dashing and spectacular play which may win or may lose, but always gives everybody a hot run for their ready money.

SUZANNE REPROACHES HERSELF.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Aug. 18.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen expressed fear today that Americans would regard her as a "poor sport." Discussing her defeat to Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory in the women's national tennis tournament, after which she refused to shake hands, the French star reproached herself with tears streaming down her cheeks.
"I am disgusted," she said, "disgusted with myself. You see, I meant so much to me. Just everything. I had so looked forward to coming to America. I have always admired you from afar, and I did wish to make a good impression. And now I am afraid everything is spoiled. What drives me most, however, is that I did not show more of the game spirit of my country. I felt so sick and everything seemed going against me; but I should not have given in had I realized what I was doing."
"I am afraid you Americans will think I am what you call a 'poor sport.'"
"My ambition now is to meet Mrs. Mallory again."

LOCAL TENNIS EXPERTS IN SEMIFINALS TODAY.
Mary Browne Meets Mrs. Hitchins, While Mrs. Bundy and Molla Mallory Tangle Racquets.
(BY FRED HAWTHORNE.)
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—As the singles play in the women's national championship tournament on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club of Forest Hills approaches the crucial final round there are indications that Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the national titleholder, and Miss Mary K. Browne of California, former holder of the championship, will meet again in the final bracket and renew their old struggle for supremacy.
The tournament reached into the semifinal round at Forest Hills today with Mrs. Carl V. Hitchins of Mexico City; Miss Browne, Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Mary Sutton Bundy of California, occupying the four brackets. Mrs. Hitchins and Miss Browne will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on court No. 2 and in the lower section Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Bundy will begin their match at 4:30 o'clock on the same court. The championship round will be played Saturday.

FAST PUGS TO TANGLE AT BENEFIT
Johnny Webber and Mike O'Leary Mix at Bike Stadium Tonight.
A delectable fight menu has been prepared for the United Spanish War Veterans' benefit program at the Bike Stadium tonight, with scrappy Johnny Webber and dangerous Mike O'Leary furnishing the main course. The card looks like a first class set of matches, the nine scraps scheduled having been made up entirely of men either new to the service or having at one time served in the Army or Navy. As far as possible, boys have been paired off with doughboys in the boxing bouts, making the evening an Army versus Navy affair.
Mike O'Leary and Johnny Webber, both having done their bit in the service, are the main attraction. O'Leary is a strong point in heavy boxing, boring in with a trained left when he gets the inside position, and to put over a finishing blow in the clinch. Webber is a slugging variety, although he can use scientific tactics when they are called for.
IN SHORT MATCH.
A. B. Ladd, champion middleweight, will be the main attraction in the short match before the boxing bouts. Both men are said to be top notchers in their branch of sport, although neither has performed before in Los Angeles. The winner will attempt to get a match with Walter Miller, world's champion in the middleweight class.
A catchweight crowd is expected to witness tonight's program, the betting favorites having done admirably in their branch of sport, although neither has performed before in Los Angeles. The winner will attempt to get a match with Walter Miller, world's champion in the middleweight class.

STAKE TO MILLIE IRWIN.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—When the grand circuit races were resumed at Narbeth, Pa., today the track was dry and fast, but a strong breeze blowing down the back stretch made the time average slower than on the opening day.
Split heats resulted in all three of the stake features. The $2500 Bellevue Stratford Hotel stake for 2-year-old trotters went to Millie Irwin. The first two heats were nose finishes and Sister Bertha got the judges' verdict in the second, in a thrilling finish, while Millie Irwin outfooted her rival in the deciding heat.
Four heats were necessary in the B. F. Keith Theater stake of $1000. King Harvester, Brudolph and Betina winning in turn. Betina took the fastest heat of the three in 3:07 1/4.

GIRL PRODIGY WINS AGAIN.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Aug. 18.—Helen Wills, a 15-year-old girl of Berkeley, Cal., who wears short dresses and lets her hair drop in a couple of pigtails, became the junior tennis champion of the United States today.
She took up tennis seriously less than three years ago and she was very proud tonight of possessing the honor which attracted her to the East, her mother said. But Helen did not reveal her pride to anyone else. She just blushed and smiled her thanks when a group of young girls and grown-ups surrounded her.

JAPAN SCORES IN CUP TENNIS.
Ichiya Kumagae Beats Slem in Straight Sets.
Hindu Puts Up Great Battle for First Affair.
Zenzo Shimidzu is Winner Over Dr. A. H. Fyze.
LAKE FOREST (Ill.) Aug. 18.—Japan won both singles matches in the first day's play of the semifinals Davis Cup tennis contest with India on the turf courts of the Onwenta Club here today. This lead is almost certain to put the Japanese players into the final round of the international classic against the Australian team at Newport, R. I., next week. Capt. Ichiya Kumagae of the Japanese team defeated Mahomed Slem, of India, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, and his compatriot, Zenzo Shimidzu, won a similar decisive victory against Dr. A. H. Fyze of India, 6-3, 6-1, 9-7.
Both Kumagae and Shimidzu proved better all-around players than their Hindu opponents. Their superiority in pace told most strongly, enabling them to maneuver the other men over the court and make their defensive territory with severe cross-court placements.
The matches were witnessed by a colorful gallery of 3500 and the events were featured by the presence of Great Lakes naval station musicians who entertained the intermissions with airs.
The Davis Cup play will be resumed tomorrow with Kumagae and Shimidzu of Japan opposing Fyze and L. S. Deane of India. Unlike the players in the first match, the Davis Cup play will be a nip and tuck battle. Fyze carried off the first set from then on despite the fact that he had a considerable lead in the second set. Shimidzu used a twist service occasionally and like his compatriot caused his opponent to sweat through his racket.

DAVENPORT GOES TO SIOUX CITY.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Pitcher Davenport, who came to the White Sox from the University of Arizona and infielder Outgar, today were released to the Sioux City club of the Western League, under optional recall agreements.
J. A. "Lefty" Russell, a tall, rangy southpaw pitcher of the Sioux City club, has been purchased by the Chicago White Sox. He is scheduled to report tomorrow.

ANGELS DROP A TOUGH GAME.
Oakland Luckily Ties Score in the Ninth Inning.
Visitors Win in Thirteenth on Muffed Fly.
Contest Replete With Fervid Crises and Action.
BY ED O'MALLEY.
Ouch! but this one sure did hurt. Oakland 12, Los Angeles 9, in thirteen hectic innings.
The struggle was really two ball games rolled into one. After the teams had fought, "battled" each other about and hurled around in general for nine innings, they began all over again on an even Steven basis.
The Chevrolet play was replete with brilliant errors, Crawford and McAulley contributing the fatal stuff.
In the first of the ninth with two out, one run in and one to tie, Cather, who pinch hit for Wins, trundled a comparatively easy one to McAulley which the latter ignorantly fumbled, allowing Lou Guiseppe to filter in from third with the tying tally.
In the thirteenth with Wills on second and Miller on first after Guiseppe had cleared the bases, Crawford lifted a high one toward the right-field bleachers pretty close to the foul line. Crawford raved over the ball and appeared to be under an easy catch, but the malicious thing played false with him, bounding out of his two mitts, allowing Wills and Miller to score.
The Angels staged a pseudo rally in their last of the thirteenth when things looked hopeless. Griggs, the first man up, doubled past Guiseppe to the bleacher fence. Crawford singled to left, Art moving over to third. It was then up to Nishkoff to save his country but the fifty-second sacker most pitifully concussed the air amid universal groans.
Then Lindstrom had a chance to be a hero but he weakly tipped an easy one to Miller. McCabe a few moments later quickly ended the feverish moment by squibbing a soft one to Knight who tossed him out to Guiseppe and the fifty-dropped horseshoes galore on the Oakland players as they scampered to the clubhouse.
OUT OF LUCK.
Mifflin seemed to dug the steps of the Seraphs all afternoon.

SEPTEMBER VANITY FAIR

Every month Vanity Fair brings to its hundred thousand readers an advance knowledge of everything intriguing, stimulating, and novel in the world of art, life and letters. A great writer publishes a new work—a great artist registers a new achievement—a famous satirist pens a new parody—an automobile makes a new record, a social set introduces a new convention—and Vanity Fair is certain to be the first to tell you about it.

IN THIS ISSUE:

St. John Ervine, Heywood Brown, George S.
Chappell and Simeon Strunsky offer some enlightening comments on the stage—and a few, equally luminous comments on prize fights, and life in general. W. L. George analyzes another style of modern woman and Franz Molnar contributes a fascinating one-act play. To this substantial literary menu Stephen Leacock and Donald Ogden Stewart add a dash of wit, and there are some rather tart remarks from Charles Hanson Towne and Erik Satie.

And, in Art?—An etching by Lee Hanley, wood-cuts by Labourer, sculpture by Chana Orloff, drawings by Augustus John, and, in a lighter vein, pen-and-inks by Benito, George Luks, St. John and Fish—all combine to furnish the pictorial note of this issue.

And, finally, the Auction Bridge Refuge, a word on tennis by Grantland Rice, a page of motor-boats and two pages of automobiles —all smartly supplemented by three pages of clothes for well-dressed men.

TEX ARRESTED IN WINDY CITY.

Richard in Law's Clutches for Transporting Films.

Gives Bond for Appearance in Federal Court.

Fight Scenes to be Shown in Chicago Hospitals.

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Indications are that Tex Rickard, promoter of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, will not find an easy sailing with the Federal authorities in Chicago as he did in New York in the matter of exhibiting the movies of the Dempsey-Carpenter championship battle to the public.

Despite his claims of immunity from prosecution on the grounds that he could not be held for the same offense twice, Rickard was taken into custody after the fight and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner James R. Glavin on a charge of transporting the fight films from one State to another in violation of the Federal statutes.

Through his attorney, Albert Fink, Rickard waived preliminary hearing and furnished $10,000 bond for his appearance before the Federal Court here later. In the meantime, acting U. S. Dist. Atty. John V. Clinan plans to lay the matter before the Federal grand jury as soon as possible and ask that an indictment be returned.

Rickard left for New York tonight, leaving the films here to be exhibited at various hospitals and camps pending his return next week with Fred C. Quimby, who has charge of the distribution of the pictures. It is Rickard's intention then to distribute the pictures to the various movie theaters throughout the State. Even should Rickard "get by" the Chicago movie censors, known as the strictest in the country, Col. Clinan probably will block the public exhibition of the films by asking for the issuance of a restraining order by the Federal courts.

Illinois U. Grade Will Congregate.

Graduates of the University of Illinois will gather Saturday at the Looft Pleasure Pier at Santa Monica under the auspices of the Southern California Illinois Club to hear the chief executives of the university's physical education staff, Hugh and Zupke, propound the benefits their alma mater would obtain from the proposed stadium. A drive for funds for the stadium is under way, and it is hoped to have the structure ready for the 1932 football season.

Other things than the stadium campaign will be discussed at the meeting. Mr. Huff will tell of the many interesting changes at the university, latest achievements, growth and increased significance of Illinois University as an American institution.

Coch Zupke, recognized as one of the foremost physical tutors in the country, will specialize on the football situation of the institution.
Mr. Zupke and Mr. Huff will make their headquarters at the American Hotel while in Los Angeles.

JOE PIPAL TO PUT IN KICK.

attack around and quite a wealth of other backfield material, the Tiger coach will have what he considers more than a good start on a first-class team. Walker, a husky, plunging back, hailing from Long Beach; Norton, the little variety quarterback; Dwight Roberts, the best man at advancing the ball the Tigers had last year; Sherwood and several other good backs are available, and while it would be expecting a little too much to look for a championship team this year, a conference title is a possibility.

GOOD COACHING.

The Tiger alumni are busily engaged in plans to assist Pipal in the molding of his material, and are organizing a system through which any candidate for the Tiger varsity will get the individual coaching of men who have starred in his position in previous years, and who know the Pipal system. Ralph Deane, Tiger coach, Ric Davis and other former players who won national prominence under the Tiger coach will lead their aid to the backfield candidates. All such plans, however, are being held in abeyance pending the arrival of the famous coach two or three weeks hence.

Plans to bring the best college teams to meet the Trojans at the Tigers, should everything work out well, are also on foot. The Eagle Tiger institution, with its average enrollment of less than 500 students, always has turned out teams of remarkable ability as compared to its size, and the alumni have become so pop-eyed with enthusiasm over the prospects for a revival of the all-conquering days of yore that they plan to challenge all comers in their class.

WILL FLASH OUT.

Rivalry between U.S.C. and Occidental, a heritage of years, is sure to flash with renewed bitterness out this fall for Pipal, of all Occidental coaches, was the most enthusiastically backed by the Trojan student body and alumni. And for good reason, for Pipal's eleven just simply murdered the Trojans year after year.

His last year with Occidental,
Pipal took his team over to Bowd Field for a practice scrimmage behind closed gates, all competition between the two schools having been banned because of a disagreement over scholarship requirements. The Tigers mauled the Trojans terribly, and the next year, when Pipal was coaching the Oregon Aggies, he came down here and proceeded to swamp his old-time victims once more.

To expect the Tiger coach to return to Southern California and repeat against the truly marvelous machine that Elmer Henderson has built up from the Trojans, and body of twenty times the size of Occidental's, would be going a little far, but those who remember the sweeping Tiger attack of the old Pipal regime will guarantee that the Trojans won't escape from the battle without having felt the Tiger claws.

ANGELS DROP A TOUGH GAME.

and held on with sinister insistence until Knight grabbed a chance for easy offing in the last half of the thirteenth. The Angels had the game almost packed away in their locker a number of times only to lose their grip at the eleventh hour.

Lyons was on the mound for Willefer and did fairly well until the fifth frame. It was here that he lost all track of direction and the plate became as big as a lagoon blimp, the ex-Cardinal heaver would have been unable to locate it. In this canto he filled the socks in quick order by walking Cooper, Wills and Knight and then to the consternation of all present he was faced by Hack Miller, who had been on the overdrive limited for two weeks.

OH, YOU HACK!

Lyons even got in bad with Hack, for he had the count two and two and in desperation took a chance with a crumple. Now when any one shoots a crumple at Hack it is time for some one to stand from under.
Hack hit that crumple with a viciousness that almost tore the hide off the pill and away it sailed to the right-center fence, clearing the bags.
The hit meant much to Hack, as it was his release from the horrible thrall of a slump.

Harry Krause was sent in at the beginning of the game to bring home the goods for Del Howard, but the nifty heaver lasted a little over one canto, when he was replaced by Winn. Winn later on was relieved by Allen, who, in turn, gave way to Kremer. Kremer made some unable to kick in with the club just when a hit was needed and thereby hangs a tale. It would be almost a herculean task to give a description of the various hits and plays, as the game fairly bristled with action and single. The fans remained in their seats almost to a man until the last player expired, and toward the end much enthusiasm prevailed.

The losing of the contest was a bitter blow to Johnny Powers, as the Tigers did their work in splendid fashion up north by easily defeating the Beas. An Angel victory would have pleasantly lessened the distance that exists between them and Charley Graham's league-leaders. The melancholy details follow:

WATER DOGS WILL CLASH IN VENTURA

Fast Venice Swimmers Hope to Bring Home the Bacon in All Events.

The Venice Swimming Association is sending its water dogs up to Ventura Friday, where they will clash in a dual meet with the Santa Barbara Y.M.C.A. Coach Rivas expects to run away with the meet and is taking with him Shewring, Finn and Walters, crack sprinters; Fair and McMahas, breaststrokers; DeCromer, backstrokers; Pears, middle distance, and Dillon, Woods and Kintley, divers. With this formidable array of talent, the Venice team should be able to carry home the honors.

The Venice club started a new innovation on Wednesday night by holding a set of swimming and diving events participated in by both the girls' and boys' teams. These Wednesday night team meets will be carried on throughout the winter and the winners will be credited with points and a record of the season kept. The high scores each swimmer will receive handsome trophies and at the end of the year the highest number of points scored for first, second and third will receive prizes donated by the Kinney Company.

The girls making up the team are developing rapidly and already Marjorie Evans, Marion Fletcher, Camille Gallo and Nellie Papsen are stepping the 50-yard dash close to the 30-second mark.

Elizabeth Jordan's Column

INDIVIDUAL "TYPES"

There are pictures in an attractive woman badly dressed. For the most part, we expect the unattractive woman to be consistently unattractive in dress and manner as well as in face. The attractive woman has a gift to live up to. We expect her to be attractive enough to frame properly the agreeable picture of her. When she fails to do this we experience not only disappointment, but an actual sense of resentment toward those awful plaids.

There are attractive women who are much on the nerves. One of them is an adorable little brown person, dark, smart and plump. What she needs, of course, are nice, simple, and comfortable clothes that will highlight and slenderize. Instead of plaid materials in patterns of large, crude designs, she needs "bumper" even fat. Her clothes set the teeth on edge. If she searched the earth over she could find nothing to her type than plaid. She does not realize this. She is a few brave souls have tried to enlighten her, but she has worn them so long that it is impossible to get anything else.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Pen the Play.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It appears no one has seen fit to make a serious editorial comment on certain phases of "The Conquest of Canaan," the recent Paramount release of Ruth Tarkington's novel, now on the screen. In connection with this film, the names of an art director and art director, among others, are mentioned on the screen. The total result in terms of art, however, is negligible.

Having read the book very recently I was interested in seeing what the screen adaptation would do for it—or to it. I came, I saw, I was conquered—by the wonder why the filming of literature at all? First, the scene portraying Eugene's homecoming, where he is supposed to proceed at a lively walk through the snow of Canaan—supposedly prior to 1845, when the book was published. Behold on the screen his appearance in a fairly up-to-date Ford, with no trace of snow on the landscape. The scene that followed at Beaver Beach was a thoroughly connected—but alas, they were not in the book, nor the trivial speeches put into the mouths of many of the characters. The high point of humor in these speeches is the question propounded by a guest to another at a dance, following tampering with a punch bowl: "Get a life saver?" (another product of our coathouses decade which does not belong to the period of the play.)

The cause for Joe Jordan's leaving Canaan was misinterpreted, as was Mr. Baker's attitude toward Joe. The book tells us that on Joe's return to Canaan, she was first seen by Joe, who was wandering alone in a stupor. In the picture we see her met by the townspeople in a body. This misrepresents the transmission of her message to him, so egregiously described in the original—"Meet me across the street bridge at noon"—not by word of mouth, as in the book, but—over the telephone. We'll concede the use of telephones in Canaan at that point, though I believe the book makes no mention of them.

We see Happy Pear—for reasons unknown called Farley in the picture—mugged by the crowd as he is taken to jail. This never happened in the story. This precipitates Joe's open defiance of the crowd, which did not occur in the book till the trial was on. We see some—one of the most impressive scenes—the judge's trial. And monplace movie mob scene. And most absurd of all, behold Judge Pike himself at the head of the unruly mob, bursting into the courtroom. Something he did not and could not, actually or logically, do. The judge's trickery with Ariel's money and his consequent downfall are omitted, when they might at least have been touched upon.

Had any character in the picture kept faith in portrayal, such inaccuracies as the above might be condoned. But not one player gave to his role the life and atmosphere which the book offered—save, perhaps, Happy Pear and the dog, whose work was truest of all. The leads did not get beneath the surface. Perhaps they saw their handicap, and didn't care. They were not types, in the first place.

No one who had read the book could be stirred by this succession of scenes. It should be asked why, if the directors and editors have ignored the book, might not some of the actors read it and learn something? If an average spectator is so impressed, what must be the effect on the opinion of such a burlesque of his work of art?

If this is the best our leading motion-picture producers can offer us, then indeed, we have little cause for rejoicing. The fact that photography houses are "turning them out" daily in proof that "hope springs eternal in the human breast." When is this hope to be realized by a true picture—a photograph classic?

SYDNEY KING RUSSELL.

You Are Welcome.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Thank you for the editorial in a recent issue entitled "Drifting Back." It covers the ground, and I with more publicity could be given to this view. The advocates of the doctrine of "Thou Shalt Not," who are always with us, but strike a responsive chord in the breast of most of us, who wish for the good of everything, matter that he may believe. An organization into which people have been forced needs something else, and needs it badly.

A Library Suggestion.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We are all interested in the Pershing Square library, and we taxpayers are especially interested in making our money go as far as possible.

Why not put Pershing Square upstairs, keep it intact, yet have our library where busy people can get the good of it?

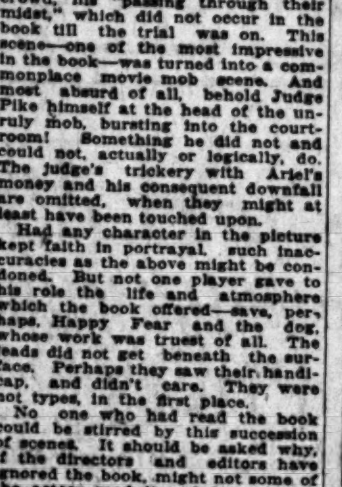

You have all heard of the "Hanging Gardens," but who ever heard of a hanging park? Visitors are always looking for something new in Los Angeles, and they are not given something novel and at the same time useful?

Let us build a one-story, Old Mission type, building all over the square, with Spanish open court in center, adorned with tropical trees, banana, palms and ferns, with winding walks, fountain, shaded seats and entrances in middle of each block and at corners of the building.

Then on the second story have a portion tiled, covered, or covered with glass, and partitioned with lattice work, with benches and broad-armed chairs for patrons of the library, which should have some of its reference and reading rooms on this second floor. The balance of this second story could be left open to our friend and helper—Old Sol.

If thought necessary, this cement roof could be stone enough, and drained to allow for a good coating of earth and be planted to grass and flowers, and some of the taller trees left standing, and winding walks and shady nooks provided for those who would not enjoy reading in the time any longer.

Then as a sop to the watch dogs of the treasury and to help pay interest on those bonds, we could rent off space on the ground floor to gas and lighting companies and for other offices, getting these utilities making it possible to pay bills at the noon hour and to look up those references at the same time.

School Vaccination.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] From an article in the editorial page of The Times a day or so ago, it might be inferred that school children may be vaccinated. This is not a new law, but a new law enacted which makes a distinction between the admission of vaccinated and unvaccinated children.

Under this new law, vaccination on the subject of vaccination can be made by school or local health authorities, and the control of smallpox is left entirely to the State Board of Health.

In the administration of this law, those suffering from smallpox, or those who have been directly exposed to it, may be vaccinated, but without distinction as to whether they are vaccinated or unvaccinated, and if any children have excluded from schools it will be those exposed to the question of vaccination.

The vote on the question of vaccination last fall shows that sentiment in California is pretty evenly divided on the question of its efficacy, and the new law will prevent the legislature from passing a law which has been carried on in behalf of the practice without any good reason.

DOUGLAS L. EDMONDS.

Approves Postion.

CORONA, Aug. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial on the Taxpayers' Revolt is most timely and should be read with interest by every taxpayer of the State of California. It contains facts and figures which show up the extravagant administration of the State of California. We were given to understand that the administration of Gov. Johnson was a most extravagant one, but it seems to appear that under the present administration we are endeavoring to surpass the expenditures of Gov. Johnson's administration by many millions.

I am especially familiar with the King tax bill, which is the most unjust piece of State legislation that was ever passed upon our people. Furthermore, no legislator who supported this bill should have the support of the taxpayers of this commonwealth.

You say in your editorial that The Times has no candidate, but that it will pledge its support in advance to one of proven ability and one who can be trusted to break the stranglehold of the present machine. As a taxpayer, I would like to suggest and call your attention to the name of a man who I think would fill all the requirements that your editorial calls for. A man who has been tried and found not guilty from Mayor of the city of Riverside, to the Commissioner of Highways of the county of Riverside, in which capacity he has served as chairman, and during his administration built more miles of roads than the appropriation available to any county in the State.

During his term as State Senator he fought on the side of economy, watching the interest of the taxpayer from every angle. As a member of the Board of Supervisors of Riverside county, I personally called on the Senator at Sacramento, asking that an increase be made in the salaries of various county officials. The Senator considered it strictly from a business standpoint, taking the matter under advisement, and made the following answer: "The county is not in position to increase salaries and some of these far whom an increase was asked could not earn the amount outside of their present position." He considered the State as a business firm and was not in favor of advancing salaries unless it justified.

This man that I would recommend is known throughout the State as an honest business man. A man of executive ability. May I suggest the name of former Senator B. C. Evans?

J. T. HAMNER.

Agrees With Us.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] May I not put in a word of appreciation for your editorial in the morning edition of The Times, headed "The Holy Call of Peace?" This is certainly the most important issue in the whole world today from any point of view, and the call of peace should meet with each a response as to leave no doubt in the mind of any leader that it is at least a popular demand. Keep repeating it. Amplify it by all possible means.

The Farm Journal says: "The United States is spending $57,000,000 a year for education and $1,272,000,000 a year for war; peace is present and future. How much longer do we purpose to stand for such a situation? It is a time more important that our boys be drilled to kill and be killed than that they be taught how to feed and clothe the world; to do honest necessary work; to make the world better and gladder for having lived." And much more along the same line and emphasizing this thought.

You will also excuse my saying that I appreciate your stand on the manner of disposing of the power bonds. I hope the court will knock it out. And while we are talking, I would like to compliment you on that one headed "Spiritual or Material?" I think it shows that there is a progressive spirit in the editorial chair. It is time there is a more rational conception of such problems. The great problems of life, death and immortality, have too long been arrogated by a few, who have pretended to solve them. Science, rather than sorcery, must enlighten us on these so-called mysteries.

Glad there is now a prospect of having Pershing Square improved by a fine library building. It will no doubt be an ornament to the square and to the city, and be planned for the future needs, as well as the present. Also, by placing it in that location, will save the overburdened taxpayers a goodly sum by not having to purchase ground for a site.

J. R. YOUNG.

Quite Bedding.

CHADWICK, Aug. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is quite bedding that a world peace conference would be held in this nation made up of all nations. We are the apex of the power and the fulcrum of world freedom and intellect. United the world will stand—divided it will fall. Nations cannot live in harmony without a guiding spirit of good will and the peace of civilization. Hatred and love beget after their kind. There is a mean between these extremes and that mean consists of every nation and every person assuming their proper positions in life as fixed by the degree of their intelligence. The white race being the likeness of the solar spectrum it shall prevail and he who hates one who possesses but a single color of the solar spectrum, weakens his own cause and approaches the level of his inferior, when by clear thought he might cast a leavening influence upon them that places each in his proper sphere. Let each of us assume our places in the world with the degree of intellectual spirit that each possesses and rejoice that our restraining desires imbue us with intelligence to conquer without the sword.
